Pepco Energy Assistance and “Gift of Energy” Programs

Programs Can Assist Family, Friends, Neighbors and More

Programs provide customers with ways to help those financially impacted by COVID-19

WASHINGTON, D.C. (May 21, 2020) – As COVID-19 continues to present health and economic challenges to our customers in the District of Columbia and Maryland, Pepco wants to remind customers of the Gift of Energy program. From helping someone pay their energy bills to giving the gift of energy, these programs provide customers options to help ease the financial impacts of the pandemic for family, friends and neighbors

For those looking to assist a specific customer, Pepco offers the Gift of Energy. The program allows anyone to purchase credits for Pepco customers—including family and friends—that go toward their energy bills. The Gift of Energy is an easy way to alleviate an energy bill for a loved one or even a local business. All that is needed is the customer’s name and address or phone number associated with the account. The gift will appear on the recipient’s future energy bill as a credit. Those interested in making a purchase can do so online at pepco.com/gift or by calling 202-833-7500.

Throughout the year, Pepco offers many other programs to help customers manage their energy costs and save money. Existing assistance programs include:

Low-income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP): A federal grant program to help low-income customers manage their energy costs and ensure service during the heating season.

Other programs supporting Maryland customers include:

The Electric Universal Service Program (EUSP) helps eligible customers pay for a portion of their current electric bill. The Arrearage Retirement Assistance (ARA) program helps customers with large, past due electric and gas bills. If eligible, customers may receive forgiveness of up to $2,000 towards their past due bill. The Utility Service Protection Program (USPP) is designed to help low-income families during the heating season. Information regarding these programs can be found on the Maryland Department of Human Services Office of Home Energy Programs website or by calling 1-800-332-6347.

In addition to energy assistance programs, Pepco has provided $875,000 to District of Columbia and Maryland COVID-19 relief organizations with nearly half of the support coming from the Exelon Foundation.

For those struggling to pay their energy bills, Pepco reminds customers that energy assistance is still available. To learn more about state and local payment assistance programs, visit pepco.com/customer-support or call 202-833-7500.
